12. DIARIO VEA (pro-government, circ. 25,000)
10/22 lead editorial headline: "The Robbery of the Century"

Selected Quotes: "George Bush's fall in the opinion polls has created a fear among many Americans that the rightist-fundamentalists will put into effect new machinations in order to repeat the election fraud of November 7, 2000. That was no fraud but rather a scandalous robbery. Bush's friends paid to have all voters `suspected' of having a criminal record scrubbed from the voter list in Florida. At one stroke George Bush's brother, Jeb Bush, the governor of Florida, eliminated thousands of Democratic Party voters, 173,000 to be exact. Among these were those who had already completed their sentences or who had committed crimes such as illegal parking or marijuana possession.

"Al Gore, the Democratic candidate, lost his advantage due to the cheating and falsifications carried out by George W. Bush.. Significant bribes financed by large corporations cleared the way for the occupation of the White House by the interests of the American ultra-right and their policy of `permanent war.'

COMMENT

15. The Chavez administration and the Chavistas have been stung by the continuous opposition claims of fraud in the August 15 referendum and the opposition's belief that the October 31 regional elections will be marred by fraud. This editorial is making the concealed point that the United States is in no position to judge voter fraud in Venezuela. In his most recent "Alo Presidente" TV program, Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez said "the people of the United States will decide [the presidential elections], at least I hope that it will be the people of the United States that decide." End Comment.
